FIFTY-EIGHTH YEAR

NO. 18

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY APRIL 5, 1935

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS.—A large proportion of the bills already enacted by the Ohio General Assembly and filed with Secretary of State George S. Myers relate to tax levies and appropriations. Observers point out that in many cases the tax levies are unusually high for the year. One of the bills recommending a 10 percent increase in the state tax on real estate within the past few days by the education committee of the House of Representatives is the $48,000,000 school program, which would set up a minimum standard of $45 for elementary and $47.50 for high school students. A measure providing for sweeping changes in the state banking laws relative to loans and investments has been introduced. It is said to have the approval of Samuel H. Squire, new state superintendent of banks, and would limit the investment of any bank in any one venture to not more than ten per cent of the bank's capital and surplus as well as prohibit a bank from loaning money to its executives.

Interesting data on Gibraltar Island in Lake Erie, near Put-in-Bay, is being compiled by Professor James E. Pollard, acting director of the school of journalism at Ohio State University. The material will be published in a book entitled "The Journal of Jay Cooke." Cooke was an interesting and colorful financier, who directed his varied activities from a mansion on Gibraltar. The island was presented to the university several years ago by Julius F. Stone of Columbus, one of the university's trustees. Professor Pollard has access to Mr. Cooke's personal records which are being used as a basis for the story.

An outbreak of rabies in southern Ohio counties has caused alarm at the State Department of Health headquarters. Records show that since the first of the year there were 416 positive cases of the disease in Ohio, which is an exceptionally large number and may be considered as an epidemic. Practically all warm-blooded animals, such as cats, horses, rabbits and foxes, will contract the infection and are likely to transmit it to humans, according to Dr. Finley D. Van Orsdall of the department of health. Infected dogs roaming at large are responsible for the outbreak, Dr. Van Orsdall said. The disease is most prevalent in Athens, Gallia, Jackson, Lawrence, Meigs, Pike, Ross and Scioto.

War department engineers announced last week that they have $37,949,000 in work relief funds which they will earmark for flood control and water conservancy projects in Ohio as soon as authorized. As a result of the announcement directors of the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy district met in Columbus to discuss further plans for the development, which involves the construction of numerous dams and levees. It was decided that a delegation representing the conservancy district will go to Washington to confer with government officials in an attempt to speed up action on allocation of the work relief funds, according to Alan N. Jordan, assistant secretary for the Scioto-Sandusky district.

The creation of new lakes and dams of proposed conservancy districts brings vividly to mind the important part that water has played in the history of Ohio. When LaSalle explored this territory in 1682 the Ohio river was his main route of travel from Montreal to the Mississippi. In later years a network of canals served Ohio as the chief arteries of trade. Now once again Ohio is applying its natural water resources to new purposes. These large dams in the conservancy districts are intended not only to prevent spring floods but also to maintain huge reserve supplies of water in case of drought. It is also hoped that the shores of the lakes formed by damming the streams will serve as recreational sites.

Greene County Farms Smaller

A report of C. G. Crist, Middletown, federal census supervisor in this district, disclosing that a preliminary count shows this county has 2,351 farms, 166 more than on April 1, 1930.

Seven enumerators were employed to take the federal government's census of Greene County farms, the survey beginning early in January. The preliminary report indicated that during the tremendous upheaval in realty titles, brought about by the depression, and bank failures early in the five-year period, that many farms were divided into smaller tracts and that titles have increased accordingly.

During the same period, many tracts have also been partitioned as a result of the death of the owner, and the tracts being divided among the heirs.

Decline Shown In Hog Contracts

Applications for corn-hog contracts to date this year have declined approximately 23 per cent from last year's figures in Ohio, but acreage represented is off only 10 to 15 per cent, Prof. H. C. Ramsower said today.

Prof. Ramsower, director of the Extension Service of the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University, said that while county agents have reported 15,000 fewer applications this year than last, the farmers' refusing to apply again were mostly producers who output was too small to enable them to profit much from the contract payments.

Monday was the last day for making application, and Prof. Ramsower said 50,000 applications had been received so far, as compared with 65,000 last year.

Prof. Ramsower reported that 1,400 farmers who did not sign in 1934 have made application this year. No contracts have been completed to date.

Gov. Davey Finds Ways For New Tax

Gov. Davey in his message to the legislature on the tax question presents many ways in which new taxes can be collected from business and individuals. The Gov. made no mention of reducing the cost of government in any quarter. Here are some of his suggestions:

Under Ward bill state income tax (1936 estimated to bring in $7,000,000).

Gross income tax from business and farms $30,000,000.

Tax on professions, dentists, physicians, attorneys, etc., $400,000.
Other professional services and occupational $1,000,000.

Chain store tax, $800,000.
Ten per cent tax on jewelry, cosmetics, electric refrigerators, amusements, $4,500,000.

Check tax $150,000. Safety deposit tax, $50,000. Tourist homes, $50,000. Payroll tax, all labor, $15,000,000.

Sporting goods, $1,000,000. Tires and tubes, $400,000.

One cent additional gasoline tax $5,000,000. Telephones, $500,000. Gas companies, $200,000. Matches, $50,000.

The Gov. reports with the breaking down of the sales tax the state's net would exceed $60,000,000 new taxes.

Corn-Hog Checks Being Handed Out

Corn and hog checks to the amount of $116,590.58 are being sent out from headquarters in Xenia to farmers that had signed contracts. The total paid to date is $482,659. The cost of administration was $43 per cent on corn contracts and 3.14 on hog contracts, based each on the $100 paid.

MORATORIUM ONCE MORE BOBS UP

The most dastardly of all proposals was the Hoover moratorium that European nations could legally escape payment of debts. It was a new born idea that foreign nations could hold back payments to this nation while our international bankers collected from our distant neighbors for private loans.

The idea soon became a football of sham politicians and it was not long until it became a political issue. Such a thing of course appealed to the Roosevelt forces, sham as it was, and in time spread to states and smaller political subdivisions.

One of the issues of the Davey campaign was the moratorium and this week the Governor calls attention of the legislature that we should have a moratorium of two years on bond issues maturing in that time, yet the taxpayers are asked to produce the money for interest on unpaid bonds.

The Herald has always opposed the moratorium both abroad and at home, irrespective of who ever proposes it. From a public standpoint the high official that proposes such a thing or asks for it, or gives it support in or out of the legislature, is a traitor to the best interests of those whom he has been elected to serve.

A moratorium is only staving off the evil day of payment of just obligations, that are not only legal but moral. There is nothing constructive in it. It wrecks credit whether for the state or the individual that thinks he is going to be benefited. It retards recovery for state or individual as the case may be. It enables either or both to spend funds for something else than payment of debt, leaving either or both in worse condition at the end of the moratorium. One moratorium invites another which in the end will wipe out both public and private finances.

The Davey moratorium, no different than others proposed, will depreciate life insurance holdings, savings in building and loans, reduce the life assets of banks, deprive the citizen of the use of his investment for any other purpose.

The moratorium should be denounced from every quarter and by all classes. It is anything but an honorable way to conduct business, public or private. If it should continue to grow and spread to other lines we would soon reach the time when no one could be compelled to pay for anything. It was one of the things that brought disgust and disgrace on a former Republican administration and it is being proposed today only as a political issue to attract voters.

The legislature should defeat the Davey proposal with a protest vote that will for years to come convince Ohioans and the nation that we have not yet stooped to the dishonorable to escape payment of our debts. Let's play fair with ourselves and live within our income so that we can pay our obligations.

Honest debt is no disgrace. We may have had an excess of it during the so-called prosperity spree some years ago but that was only possible because the individual as well as the taxing district incurred it voluntarily. These debts were created in good faith and they cannot be regarded honest debts under a moratorium.

From the taxing district standpoint it certainly does not appeal to us that any set of officials from governor down should be permitted to spend money in sinking fund accounts paid by the taxpayer for debt purposes, for the purchase of this or that as public officials would have the right to do under the Davey moratorium.

The village of Cedarville has never defaulted the payment of a bond or interest in more than 100 years. We know how local officials have planned and saved wherever possible that this long record should not be broken. It is an honorable record that each citizen should be proud of, and moreover under the times through which we have past and what we face in the future. Every effort has been made to reduce our debt each year to reduce interest charge. Under the moratorium interest charges mount, with the debt hanging over the head of the taxpayers.

Ohio should shame the federal government by opposing any kind of a moratorium and announce to the world that we stand ready to pay our financial obligations as they fall due, even if we have to reduce our standard of living to gain this honor.

DEMOCRATIC SHOWMANSHIP AT ITS BEST

"The Greatest Show on Earth," such was the slogan of the circus owner that was credited with the oft repeated statement: "A fool is born every minute."

We give credit to Franklin D. Roosevelt as the greatest political showman that ever appeared in or out of doors in America with the "Greatest Show of Performing Political Jackasses" known in the civilized world.

By this time Roosevelt has been convinced that the early master showman was wrong in his statement which now reads: "Two fools are born every minute," otherwise there would not be the number of followers of Roosevelt's "Greatest Show on Earth."

We have exhibitions of this show daily in Congress. We read the press and find what the bill boards have always claimed for all circuses. We turn on the radio and can bring the "Greatest Show" into our homes.

Roosevelt himself is one of the mystery showman that has put the old shell game circus operator in a lower class. By a magic trick he has passed the cups, fooled the people, and we are now told that a dollar's worth of gold is worth $1.59.

In the side show division we have the Richbergs, Tugwells, Hopkins, Greens, Lewis and Perkins. All might be what "Hokey" Long calls the saint vitis dance outfit.

The clown Democratic section comprises the world's leading make believe. There is Johnson, Long, Coughlin, Wallace and a long list that always draw a full house. You can never tell what is behind the clown makeup or the mother Hubbard suit and no one cares—it's the show that attracts the crowd.

Why have elephants, lions, bears and rattlesnakes from the animal kingdom when you can draw just as much attention with a few clowns. Its all in successfully fooling the public. No matter what happens—the show must go on—under the guidance of the "Greatest Political Showman" known to mankind.

MORE TAXES NEEDED FOR STATE TAX COLLECTORS

With 200 political appointees drawing annual salaries that amount to $500,000 in the state relief division; 465 on the state sales tax payroll with yearly salaries of $775,015; and appointees in four state officials getting in on the sales tax collection, we are not far from one million dollars a year alone for collection of sales taxes so far as the state is concerned. Then we come to the counties, each one in the state having from one to ten new appointees in the treasurer offices.

While it costs more than one half million to pass out relief so far as the state is concerned, each county has an expensive set up that may have from twenty-five to fifteen hundred to keep the relief wheels moving. But one county in Ohio has no relief organization, Harrison county. It has a record of no bonded indebtedness and refused to bond itself as demanded by the White Democratic administration. The county takes care of its own relief in its own way. It is also interesting to note that what few Democrats entered office on the landslide went out after one term.

Meantime other counties are issuing bonds by the hundred thousand monthly and hungry politicians are eating up so-called relief funds by the hundred thousand before those actually in need of relief get sight of a sack of flour or a half ton of coal. A gullible public fell for the "forgotten man" hash and all those in actual need can do is to remain hungry and cold while the Democratic politicians in Washington and Columbus get their grab first.

While the legislature faces a long list of bills that have to do with taxes and revenue, the question of back taxes holds a prominent place. Different methods as to giving aid and making it easier to pay taxes have been tried but many counties say that little or no progress has been made. One suggestion much out of the ordinary is to pass a law requiring the county treasurer to post a large sign on each property delinquent "Taxes Unpaid." With thousands paying taxes on time and giving aid to support of government, there is a growing feeling that instead of more prompt payment, more and more people will fall into the habit of slow payment. With moratoriums on bonds, mortgages, etc., why should any one pay for anything? Are we not educating people to spend their money for everything else than meeting just obligations. There are instances where property owners have met with misfortune that offer a valid excuse but there is no just reason why we should legalize non-payment of our obligations.

The Roosevelt TVA socialistic experiment wherein the government is entering into direct competition with private industry is of more than passing interest to property owners and business interests in Ohio and other northern states. The experiment in providing southern states with cheap power is political bait at the expense of taxpayers in northern states for a very small percent of government revenue is collected south of the Mason and Dixon line. A few days ago the Ohio Chamber of Commerce exposed a plan where government agents were attempting to influence certain northern industries to locate in the south to get advantage of cheap power, cheap labor, etc. A Democratic congressman from Ohio complained to President Roosevelt and the latter challenged the Ohio Chamber to produce the evidence. The evidence was given the President but to date he has not publicly acknowledged it. Moving Ohio industries south means less labor, reduced purchasing power and more people on relief. The north is being betrayed.

You certainly got a good line on the Roosevelt policy of support for small business, for-gotten man, etc., in his southern vacation trip. Riding as the guest of multi-millionaire Astor on a palatial yacht and having as his companion Kermit Roosevelt, head of a million dollar steamship company. The Roosevelts are cousins. Added to this the average reader might form his own conclusion as to why the President wandered away from Democratic party ideas and has urged congress to subsidize a merchant marine. This would mean the government would pay part of the cost of operating the steamship business for private profit. If this is in conformity to attacking holding companies we fail to see the point. The average Democrat must swallow much of what has been said about Republican administrations backing big business or else repudiate the Roosevelt program. The point to the whole argument is that the Roosevelt families have great financial interests in steamship companies.

Complaints of government relief meat and how it has been handled in Franklin county have finally forced official action. The grand jury in that county is investigating the complaints. Yet how quick some of the folks in connection with relief headquarters that are on government pay and have their hands in the taxpayer's pocket come to the front when anything has been said about the rotten meat the government has forced on those in need. A yelp went out last week in Xenia as to how good the relief meat has been by one nursing the public teat. We hear no shouts from those who have had to eat the meat. Their silence speaks for itself.

Few people in this section can have any idea of what a western dust storm could be like, according to a report from a friend even as far north as Chicago. He reports that his daughter had just completed house cleaning and painters had but thirty minutes work enameled the walls of the bathroom when a high wind swept a cloud of western dust that soon filled the house. Regardless doors and windows were closed the white walls of the bathroom were soon a drab color as enamel set. There was nothing to do but sandpaper the walls and do the painting over again.

Has anyone seen the government hay buyer? One of the Roosevelt relief purchasers is wanted in connection with an indictment by a Franklin county grand jury. He has been missing for about three weeks and is also charged with making campaign collections for the Democratic state committee to pay the inaugural expenses. The Roosevelt-Hopkins crowd is trying to divert public attention from the rottenness of the relief organization, state and county. The hay buyer worked for the government and not the state, yet the New Dealers are trying to throw the load on Gov. Davey, who had nothing to do with appointing those on the relief pay roll. The appointments were made by former Gov. White and the New Dealers.

No Democrat that believes in the established principles of the party should fail to read two editorials in the Cincinnati Enquirer of Monday, April 1. One dealt with the NRA and the other with the AAA. A three column head on the first page gave Sen. Huey Long more space that has been given President Roosevelt of late. It is very unusual for the Enquirer to take such a wide step from the party moorings. Not so long ago we heard a prominent Democratic state politician ask a Democratic publisher why he gave first page space to Sen. Huey Long. The answer was: "It is not so much what we think of Long as the good he is doing. He is the throttle that is holding down rabid brain-trusters that would force Roosevelt to become a Hitler dictator." Its all in the Democratic family.

A third campaign is planned by the Federal government to boost the sale of "baby bonds," the new inflation series amounting to more than a billion dollars. Two other campaigns have failed in that only $38,000,000 have been sold to 77,000 buyers. We are surprised that followers of the New Deal have not stepped up before this and made purchases that would oversubscribe the issue. Certainly the New Deal followers have not lost confidence in the financial policy of the Roosevelt government.

Gov. Davey has hit the Roosevelt followers below the belt when he asks how the Federal administration is to draw by two horses, thirty-seven raise funds to meet a campaign deficit and one-half cents; every horse in ad of more than half a million. The dition, twelve and one-half cents; for Roosevelt's have charged that every two wheeled pleasure carriage Davey forces have used high pressure in collecting campaign funds from half cents.

The first session of the General Assembly to meet at the new capital, Columbus, convened December 2, 1816, and adjourned January 28, 1817.

It was Governor Worthington's second term. He still resided at "Adena," his Chillicothe estate, and was found in his office at the Capitol, only when business required. Legislation, at this session, was comparatively light, a large mileage of new turnpikes and toll roads being authorized. Tolls were based on a ten-mile travel.

For four-wheeled vehicles drawn by two horses or oxen, the toll was twenty-five cents, for every horse or ox in addition, six and one-fourth cents; two wheeled carriage drawn by two horses or oxen, eighteen and three-fourths cents; for every sled or sleigh drawn by two horses or oxen, twelve and one-half cents; for every horse and rider, six and one-fourth cents; for every horse, mule or ass, led or driven, six months old or upward, three cents; for every head of meat cattle, six months old or upward, two cents; for every score of hogs or sheep, twelve and one-half cents; for every pleasure carriage drawn by two horses, thirty-seven and one-half cents; every horse in ad of more than half a million. The dition, twelve and one-half cents; for Roosevelt's have charged that every two wheeled pleasure carriage Davey forces have used high pressure in collecting campaign funds from half cents.

All obstacles to the settlement of lands in Northwestern Ohio were removed by a treaty with the various Indian tribes, held on the left bank of the lower Rapids of the Maumee, on September 29, 1817, the American convinced the average citizen the interests being represented by Lewis Hopkins administration of relief in Cass and Duncan McArthur. MIZPAH BIBLE CLASS

The Mizpah Bible Class met with Mrs. E. L. Stormont, Tuesday afternoon, April 2, with 18 members and three visitors present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. A. Allen by singing the hymn, "Believing in the Saviour." The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Hostetler. We sang "The Old Ragged Cross," after which Mrs. Hostetler read the scripture lesson and led in prayer. The devotional period closed by singing "Near the Cross."

The roll call was answered by each one naming their favorite hymn. It being the Easter month, the program was an Easter one. We were favored by a duet by Margery and Dorothy Cotton: "Bab-dink Tell Me True." Mrs. Hines read a beautiful story of an Easter in England during the reading of the story. The class sang the hymn: "In the Garden." It was a very beautiful story and very well read.

The Cotton sisters then sang two more songs, Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and "The Mountain Railroad" after which time we adjourned for a social time with the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Minnie McMillan and Mrs. Cotton, served delicious refreshments.

Temperance Notes

Sponsored by Cedarville W. C. T. U.

The Chicago Tribune (week) states that Chicago's liquor bill last year increased by $80,000,000 and that the mill bill decreased by $70,000,000.

Fifty-nine leading cities in the United States have experienced a 20 per cent slump in milk consumption since repeal, according to a recent government survey.

At this writing, the day after the repeal election in Alabama, it would seem that this southern state voted to stay in the dry column. The proposed modification of the 20-year-old prohibition statutes was defeated and the state also defeated the legalization of hard liquor. But the legislature of Arkansas voted to end prohibition in that state.

The Methodist young people of the Epworth League of northern Ohio at their mid-winter institute held at Baldwin-Wallace College, February 23, 24, passed the following resolution:

We deplore the evils of the liquor traffic. We believe that, through concerted action as young people we should be able to correct this evil by refusing to patronize places of business where liquor is sold, wherever possible.

It would be well for other young people's organizations to adopt similar resolutions.

Senator Arthur Capper has offered a bill in Congress to prohibit the circulation of liquor advertising through the mediums of interstate commerce. It is known as S. B. 541. It would be well to write to your senator asking him to support this bill.

The Chicago Daily News says:

"The saloon was never to return; liquor was to be taken out of politics; bootlegging was to be ended; drinking was to be decreased; temperance was to be promoted. Furthermore, unemployment was to be mitigated greatly; new revenue was to roll into state and Federal treasuries in vast sums; and the nation was to be saved many millions in the cost of enforcement."

"None of the promises has been fulfilled. The saloon is back, liquor is in politics, bootlegging continues, drinking has increased, unemployment is worse, the revenue returns to the state treasury are far below the hopeful estimates of 1933, and the cost of fighting the illicit traffic is still burdensome."

BOARD OF EDUCATION AND FACULTY ENTERTAINED

On Tuesday evening, April 2, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Furst entertained the Board of Education, their wives and husbands, and others at the Whitelaw Reid Home at 6 o'clock dinner. The decorations were in keeping with the season.

The remainder of the evening was spent at the Furst home in Cedarville, where they enjoyed Mrs. Chester McDonald Carr, reader, from Columbus.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clemans, Mrs. and Mrs. W. B. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Galloway, Mrs. and Mrs. P. M. Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Richards, Sept. and Mrs. H. C. Aultman, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. McClesney, Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, Mr. E. G. Lowry, Mrs. Chester McDonald Carr, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Furst.

On Thursday, April 4, the faculty, their wives and husbands were also entertained at the Reid Home at 6 o'clock dinner, after which a social time was enjoyed with Mrs. Carr, who rendered several selections. In addition to the reading, rock was played during the evening.

Those present were: Miss Mildred Abaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Aultman, Miss Sarah Margaret Chance, Miss Ruth Chandler, Mrs. Chester McDonald Carr, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Deem, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Furst, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. COLLEGE NEWS

Don't forget the Junior Class Play to be given next Thursday night at 8:15 at the opera house. "Shirt Sleeves" has been played more than five hundred times throughout the United States recently and has proved a great "hit."

"The audience liked it because it was up-to-date, presented problems confronting many of us today." "It seems to answer the plea for something different." "It brought forth more favorable comments than any play we have used for years." "It is so refreshing to find something that does not revolve around liquor and drunkenness." These are only a few of the things that have been said in praising "Shirt Sleeves" in the various towns in which it has been played.

The cast includes Joe West, Olive Brill, Charles Chamberlain, Wilma Chenoweth, Donald Burkert, Mary
Linton, Lois Bradley, Mildred Labig,
Mary C. Probasco, Anna Jane Wham,
Russell Murray, Vernon Garlough, Julia McCallister, Eugene Corry, Harriet Ritenour and Paul Reed.

Messrs Marion Hostetler and Walter Kilpatrick of Western Theological Seminary have been in Cedarville the past week during their spring vacation.

The Women's Bible Reading Contest was held Sunday evening in the United Presbyterian Church. The acting judges of the evening were Dr.
H. B. McBree of Xenia, Rev. L. L.
Gray and Mrs. Gray of Jamestown.
First prize was won by Eleanor Bull;
second prize, Georgia Skinnell; third prize, Rebecca Biggs; fourth prize, Mary Elizabeth Fisher; fifth prize,
Mary Linton. This contest was sponsored by Miss Margaret B. Rife.

Dr. and Mrs. McChesney were entertained with the Cedarville Board of Education by Mr. and Mrs. H. D.
Furst at the Whitelaw Reid Tea Room.

Professor Steele attended a meeting of the Dayton Presbytery at Dayton on Tuesday.

The Cedarville College Dramatics
Club met at the Alford Memorial Gymnasium Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

A play "Alice's Blue Gown" was presented by a group of girls. It was directed by Elsie Post. The play showed, without a doubt, just where the feminine mind tends to go.

The cast of characters was:
Alice—Hazel Nelson.
Dodo—Ethel May.
Paddy—Helen Hageman.
Dizzy—Rebecca Biggs.
Celeste—Elsie Post.
Lolo—Harriette Miller.
Miss Prescott—Norma May.
Stage Manager—Eugene Reed.

Following the play a business meeting was conducted by the president, Miss Bull. The Constitution and By-Laws were read by Joe West and adopted by the Club. A nominating committee was appointed with Harry Wallace as chairman.

We feel that these plays are excellent training in Dramatics and also finding hidden talents in our school.
We will be pleased to have more visitors at our next meeting.

Appeals Court Upholds Lower Court

The decision of the Greene County Common Pleas Court has been affirmed in the case of Mrs. Esther M.
Warner, wife of R. J. Warner, superintendent of the Bath Twp. schools in a suit against Walter F. Tinker, has been sustained by a decision of the Court of Appeals. The question of beneficiary under $16,000 worth of life insurance was at stake.

Mrs. Warner was bequeathed a 212-acre farm in Ross county and was not to obtain title until she became 40 years of age, which she reached May 6, 1935. On Nov. 3, 1928 she sold the farm to Tinker, gave him a deed and he agreed to insure her life for $16,- 000 with Tinker named beneficiary for five years. Thereafter her husband was to be the beneficiary. The policy was to protect Tinker's investment, $11,000 representing the amount of the purchase and $5,000 covering cost of improvements. The Aetna Life Insurance Co., was named a party to the suit, reported the policies were issued to Tinker without her knowledge.
